Elmhurst, Illinois, Jan. 27—Andrew W. Hartweg, vice president, CBJ Credit Recovery, Jamestown, New York., has earned his Certified Professional Business Executive (CPBE) designation from the Medical-Dental-Hospital Business Associates (MDHBA), announced Todd Gillis, CPBE, president of the organization.

Hartweg, who is a member of the MDHBA Board of Directors, is currently serving as the association's president-elect. Additionally, he served as chair of the organization's Education Committee from 2009 through 2011, where he was responsible for overseeing development of MDHBA's Annual Conference, audio conferences, and other programs. He received MDHBA's President's Award in 2010, and was honored with the organization's Robert T. Hellrung Award in 2011.

An owner of CJB Credit Recovery, Hartweg is responsible for the company's finance, IT and sales. He is currently the President-Elect of the Jamestown Rotary Club

CPBE recognizes individuals who meet rigorous standards of professionalism, including healthcare client endorsements, industry experience, civic achievements, and support of professional associations. CPBE recipients are expected to demonstrate and maintain high standards of business services.
